

Of all of the petitions for rule changes made for the amateur bands, I find RM-10868 to be the most thought out. However, I would like to see any band changes made where the "novice" operator is protected from the operation of possible "out-of-band operation" by moving their operating segment closer to the center of the band. This would afford protection to other non-amateur spectrum users from accidental erroneous emissions.

Steve/WM5Z